

PEANUT PRODUCTS!!!

Parents,

Lil' Einstein's Learning Academy is a nut-free center. Please keep this in mind when packing your child lunch, no peanut butter or cookies, crackers, and snacks including nuts or peanut butter. The summer camp classroom in particular has a few students who are HIGHLY allergic to peanut butter. These students have an epi-pen on file in case they come in contact with the product. We do not want to jeopardize any child's health so please, please, please do not pack any food with nuts!!! If a child does have a nut product or peanut butter, the product will be discarded and an alternate option will be given to the child in which your account will be charged a lunch fee. Again, this is to ensure the safety of all our students and we appreciate your immediate cooperation.

FYI– If your child really enjoys peanut butter sandwiches, you may want to consider soy butter. It does taste slightly different but not too much, especially if it has jelly with it. If you do choose to do this please be sure to label the item “Soy Butter” so the teachers are aware.

Thank you,

Christie Jackson
